Description

Currently only captures the UILO's involvement in knowledge mobilization, these are more appropriately called Technology Mobilization Channels.

Channels utilized by UILO to mobilize technologies:

- Licensing
- Flintbox
- Intellectual Ventures Canada agreement

The UILO is building capacity to develop new channels such as increased support for the development of mobile apps and open source licensing; these should be launched in the coming 12 months.

Person with lead responsibility for this metric: Associate VP Research, VPRI

Data collection will be from: Director of Operations, UILO

Date: Collected for each fiscal year April 1-March 31. Data normally available in April.

Explanation of Results

The UILO is currently developing additional Technology Mobilization Channels to supplement its traditional technology licensing activities, technology dissemination via Flintbox, and our agreement with Intellectual Ventures Canada.
